

Where to eat in Legazpi

- Small Talk Cafe

A homestyle restaurant perfect for catching up with friends and family, Small Talk Cafe first opened its doors in 1999 and since then has been known for its Bicolano fusion food. Its rustic architecture features wooden tables and chairs, vintage artworks, and even a piano in the middle of the restaurant. While dining here, try their authentic dishes such as their Bicolana pizza, Camalig pinangat, Bicol express, sinigang, caldereta, kare-kare, crispy pata, caramba croquettes, Mayon hot lava, and many more fusion dishes.

Location: 051 Dona Aurora Street, Legazpi, Luzon 4500 Philippines

- 1st Colonial Grill

1st Colonial Grill is a local restaurant that serves traditional and modern Bicolano food. The restaurant is popularly known for its famous Sili Ice Cream. It is not your typical ice cream, as it leaves a spicy sensation on your tongue after a sweet bite. It also comes in 4 spicy levels:

level 1, level 2, level 3, and volcano. But before you have ice cream for dessert, try some of their delectable dishes, which include Bicol express, tinapa fried rice, buko chopsuey, pork sisig, laing, grilled mussels, crispy pata, baby back ribs, sinanglay, and lechon kawali.

Location: 3rd Level, SM City Legazpi, Imelda C. Roces Avenue corner Terminal Road, Brgy. Bitano, Legazpi City, Albay, Philippines

- BIGGS

You will surely pass by at least one of the multiple branches of BIGGS when you're in Albay. This well-known diner has been serving Filipino, American, and Bicolano food since 1983. They have branches outside Albay and have been serving big proportions, particularly for their main courses. Aside from their famous crispy fried chicken, try out their pork cordon bleu, grilled spareribs, baby back ribs, juicy burgers, kebabs, salisbury steaks, tenderloin tips, and their Bicol specialties.

Location: JP Rizal Ave., Legazpi, Luzon 4500 Philippines

- Four Seasons Restaurant Legazpi

Known as one of the oldest authentic Chinese restaurants in Legazpi, Four Seasons Restaurant is a must-visit. Once you enter the restaurant, you will be treated to its Chinese-themed interiors, with a mix of modern Filipino elements. The restaurant is known for a local favorite, their Seasons Chicken. It tastes both sweet and salty, with a special sauce to compliment the chicken's unique taste. Other delectable dishes you can try in the restaurant include fried lumpiang shanghai, crab omelette, beef with broccoli, lechon kawali, fried pork spareribs, and sizzling pork steak.

Location: 3rd Level, SM City Legazpi, Imelda C. Roces Avenue corner Terminal Road, Brgy. Bitano, Legazpi City, Albay, Philippines

- Boklan Food Center

Boklan Food Center is a no-frills Chinese restaurant in Albay that offers authentic and delicious cuisine. Despite its simple and unfussy ambiance, the food speaks for itself. The longstanding establishment has built a reputation for quality and variety over the years. Customers rave about their lomi, hot and sour soup, lemon chicken, mixed vegetables, Pancit Guisado, siopao, and Boklan chicken.

Location: 66 Elizondo St, Legazpi Port District, Legazpi City

- Family Kitchenette

Established in 1968, Family Kitchenette has been Legazpi City's home of the best fried chicken and ribs. They are a cozy family-oriented eatery offering a variety of home-cooked meals. Their menu features signature Bicolano comfort foods and local specialties that cater to both locals and tourists looking for a taste of home away from home.

Location: Purok 2 Bgy. 39 Bonot, Legazpi

- Sibid-Sibid Food Park

If you're craving some seafood, look no further than Albay's Sibid-Sibid Food Park. It is a food establishment open to the public since 2010. According to the restaurant's manager, Bryan Gil, the restaurant was founded by his grandmother, Matilda, whose passion for seafood has been put to good use in the restaurant business. When you walk in, you'll see a wide space decorated in the traditional provincial style. While dining here, try some of their popular dishes which include tuna bicol express, adobong kasag (stir-fried blue crab), tinutongang hanit (mud crab in smoked coconut milk), seafood mix, and Sibid express.

Location: 64 Peñaranda St, Legazpi City, Albay

- Cres Snack Inn

Cres Snack Inn has earned its reputation as a culinary icon in Legazpi City. What sets this establishment apart is its commitment to preserving and innovating upon traditional flavors. The ambiance at Cres Snack Inn is reminiscent of an old-school eatery with a simple table and chair setup. Ordering is a straightforward process, where you join a queue, select your order, and settle the bill.

Location: J & M Building, Rizal St., Legazpi City

- Pares King

Pares King is a popular spot for both locals and tourists seeking affordable Filipino and Bicolano lutong-bahay meals. The restaurant is known for its creamy kare-kare, laing tinapa, crispy pata, and the unique Bicol express tinapa, which they have actually patented.

Location: 117 Washington Drive, Legazpi City